'The New King and the Royal Roll'

Get creative with our leftover paper rolls and A4 paper to be included in a book and gallery to celebrate the King's Coronation.

Win
£250
for your school!

We're looking for creative primary school-aged children to get creative with our waste paper.

We'll provide the paper; all your child has to do is get busy.

Write or draw about what you think the new King might do with his paper roll.

Ten winning entries will be selected and included in a commemorative book to mark the King's Coronation. Artwork will also go on display at Rugby Art Gallery and Museum. In addition, we will pick one illustration for the front cover to win £250 towards a school project of their choice.

Closing date 19th May 2023

Your ideas...

Our rolls start like this...

These are loaded into our big printers...

(they are very heavy)

and end as paper for recycling!

(the centres of the rolls are too small to be used on the machines)

Ready to recycle!
